

Let's talk about Human Rights Careers

Where, after all, do universal human rights begin? In small places, close to home—so close and so small that they cannot be seen on any maps of the world. Yet they are the world of the individual person; the neighborhood he lives in; the school or college he attends; the factory, farm, or office where he works. Such are the places where every man, woman, and child seeks equal justice, equal opportunity, equal dignity without discrimination. Unless these rights have meaning there, they have little meaning anywhere. Eleanor Roosevelt, 1958

Are you a human rights professional in the making? Do you want to engage and connect with established human rights experts and practitioners? Do you want to know more about the role of the public administration in protecting and promoting human rights? Learn about the realization of human rights at the local level at our next generation networking event, taking place in the framework of the 2023 Academy and Conference: Human Rights Go Local - What works.

The online networking event seeks to establish a link between today's stakeholders and tomorrow's actors: Exchange practical knowledge of working in the broad field of human rights, discuss the realization of future perspectives and aspirations, and gain insights into professionalization opportunities at the local level - a sphere gaining ever-more importance in the realization of the Sustainable Development Goals and the international human rights agenda!

For whom?

The event is organised for members of the next generation. Students of all disciplines, young professionals and career beginners in public management at all levels can exchange with established human rights experts.

When? Friday, 3 February 2023 between 12 and 15:00 CET (GMT+1), exact time and schedule to be specified

Where? Online using BigBlueButton (Links will be provided one day before the event)

Register here:

<https://www.humanrightsgolocal.org/academy23/next-generation/>

Further information will be provided in due time!

